

Farheena Siddiqui

Farheena Siddiqui is a partner at Moore, Christoff & Siddiqui where she heads the criminal division section of the firm.

In the criminal defense practice group, she represents clients in matters including murder, sexual assault, and violent weapons offenses. She has successfully litigated both felony and misdemeanor charges in various counties and cities across Northern Virginia such as Alexandria, Fairfax, Arlington, Prince William, and Spotsylvania. Farheena has also successfully litigated complex felonies and misdemeanors in the Eastern District of Virginia (EDVA) and the United States District Court.

Throughout her practice, she has remained committed to providing quality representation to her Clients. She has remained on the court appointed counsel list to ensure that everyone, regardless of socio-economic status, has quality defense.

Farheena received her bachelor's degree from the University of California, Los Angeles. She received her J.D. from The George Washington University Law School.

She is active in the community as a member of the Rotary Club of Alexandria (previously on the board as Membership Chair), the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, and the Alexandria Bar Association (currently serving on the Foundation Board as well as the Judicial Screening Committee).
